CRA ASSESSMENT AREA STATEMENT

Artisans' Bank serves all three counties in the State of Delaware: New Castle County, a portion of Metropolitan Area (MA) 48864; Kent County, a portion of Metropolitan Area (MA) 20100; and Sussex County, formerly the Delaware portion of Metropolitan Area (MA) 41540. This CRA delineation is based on a geographic analysis of the Bank's loans and deposits and the location of its 11 full-service branches and loan production offices. The Bank's analysis supports a conclusion that our Reasonably Expected Market Area (REMA) does not extend beyond our formal CRA Assessment Area delineation.

The Bank's Loan to Deposit ratio is the amount of a Bank's loans divided by the amount of its deposits at any given time. This ratio allows the Bank's regulators to determine whether the Bank is reasonably helping to meet the credit needs of the communities served by the Bank. In this context, the higher the ratio, the more the Bank is lending, presumably within its community.

The regulators use this percentage to determine compliance with section 109 of the Riegle-Neal Interstate Banking and Branching Efficiency Act of 1994. In general, this law prohibits banks from establishing or acquiring a bank or bank branches outside of its home state primarily for the purpose of deposit gathering. The section also prohibits branches controlled by, out of state, bank holding companies from operating primarily for the purpose of deposit production.

As of June 30, 2024, (the most recent year available), the statewide average Loan to Deposit Ratio for Delaware banks was 66%. This ratio is updated annually by the FDIC, and although it excludes wholesale banks, limited purpose banks, and credit card banks, it does include national banks headquartered in Delaware who report their deposits here, thus skewing the ratio lower. Banks are required to report their loan to deposit ratio quarterly, as part of its quarterly CALL reporting.
